

FloorScore® Certification contributes to healthier indoor air quality for both home and office environments.

FloorScore is a hard surface flooring and flooring adhesive product certification that meets strict indoor air quality (IAQ) requirements. It was developed by the Resilient Floor Covering Institute (RFCI) in partnership with SCS Global Services (SCS). Products with the FloorScore label meet the indoor air quality emissions criteria of the US Green Building Council's Leadership for Engineering and Environmental Design (LEED); Collaborative for High Performance Schools (CHPS); WELL Building Standard, Green Guide for Healthcare, and other leading green building standards.

Experienced and Trusted Certifier

SCS Global Services is a recognized global leader in third-party certification for environmental sustainability claims. For over 30 years, SCS has offered programs that span a wide cross-section of industries including, product manufacturing, food and agriculture, forestry, retail, and more. SCS is a chartered benefit corporation, reflecting its commitment to socially and environmentally responsible business practices.

Why is FloorScore Certification important?

FloorScore products help customers create both a beautiful and healthy indoor environment at home or at the office.

FloorScore Uses Stringent Product VOC Testing and Emission Criteria

FloorScore tests for a product's chemical emissions following established scientific and health-based criteria developed by the California EPA and endorsed by the California Department of Public Health's Standard Method for Volatile Organic Compound (VOC) Emissions Testing and Evaluation.

FloorScore Validates Products Annually for Continued Performance

FloorScore certification confirms products have met the rigorous criteria for quality control procedures, documented material sourcing, and indoor air quality performance and continues to maintain certification through annual verification requirements, such as testing and manufacturing audits.

Value of Partnership with SCS, Environmental Sustainability Leader

Certification by SCS shows manufacturers' commitment to the health and well-being of their customers by offering environmentally sustainable product options, so they may make informed decisions based on high performing environmental products.
